

Celebrating Women in Mathematics at the University of Reading

<https://may12.womeninmaths.org/>

6th May 2020, 11.30-13.15 hours : Online meeting

Chair: Jennifer Scott, Professor of Mathematics, University of Reading

PROGRAMME

11.30: Welcome and introduction by Jennifer Scott

Talks:

11.35: "Finding my way from University into the, somewhat niche, catastrophe modelling industry", Katharine Stevens, Assistant Vice President, Client and Consulting Group, AIR Worldwide

11.55: "My Journey in Statistics: Random Walks and Significant Events", Sue Todd, Professor of Mathematics and Statistics, University of Reading

12.05: "Stormy Maths", Suzanne Gray, Professor of Meteorology, University of Reading

12.15: "Working towards gender equality at the University of Reading", Simon Chandler-Wilde, Professor of Applied Mathematics and Former Dean of Diversity and Inclusion, University of Reading

12.30: "How I stopped being afraid of Maths and learned a new language", Agnieszka Faulkner, Department of Meteorology PhD Student, University of Reading

12.35: "Maths: the secret behind Data Science and AI", Huizhi Liang, Lecturer in Computer Science, University of Reading

12.45: "Maths, maps and me", Tasmin Symons, Maths of Planet Earth Centre for Doctoral Training Graduate, Postdoctoral Researcher, University of Oxford Big Data Institute

12.55: "Discovering new worlds while at my desk", Ieva Dauzickaite, Maths of Planet Earth Centre for Doctoral Training PhD Student, University of Reading

13.00: Closing summary and online networking, Jennifer Scott

13.15: Meeting closes

